We desire to thank all our friends who have given us their support for this Concert and in our previous efforts, and sincerely hope that they will continue to assist us in our self appointed task of rendering First Aid to the injured and doing our best to alleviate pain and suffering.

A further duty is now being thrust upon us, namely, "Air Raid Precautions," and the advising and training of the Public in measures to be taken for their safety against air attack.

This we are perfectly willing to do and at present are in the course of instruction, but in order to Help You we must again appeal to you to continue to Help Us.

Yours in service,

LEONARD YOUNG.
